OVERVIEW

The following guide is for individuals who are applying for Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) for the first time. This guide includes annotated forms I-821D, I-765, and I-765WS, which form a DACA application packet.

Please note that U.S. Citizenship & Immigration Services (USCIS) will only consider your application packet complete if all three forms and additional supporting documents are submitted.

Applicants who are interested in renewing their DACA should visit our other guide around DACA renewals.

It is important to note that if an individual’s DACA expired more than a year ago or was terminated, they will have to file an application as a “renewal-initial.” This means that extra documentation will be needed in order for the application to be considered complete and applicants will need to complete the application as if they were filing for the first time. Applicants renewing in this manner can look at this guide to see what information will be needed but a detailed analysis of that type of application packet is beyond the scope of this guide.

While the DACA program has been fully restored, allowing for applicants to submit DACA applications for the first time, applicants should note that there might be changes in the future that could impact who is eligible to apply.

Applicants can visit the ILRC website at https://www.ilrc.org/daca for more information on the program changes and updates as well as useful tools and community resources.

USCIS will reject applications that are not filed using the most up to date edition of the forms. Currently, USCIS is accepting the following editions for each form:

- ✔ I-821D form edition date 04/24/2019
- ✔ I-765 form edition date 08/25/2020; and

New forms can be downloaded free of cost from the USCIS website at: https://www.uscis.gov/i-821d.
