

ANNOTATED FORM N-400

By Eric Cohen & Alison Kamhi

NOTE: This is a new version of the annotated N-400 updated on April 25, 2024.

I. Introduction

On April 1, 2024, the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Service issued a new naturalization form (Form N-400) for public use. To assist practitioners and volunteers in completing the new N-400 form, the Immigrant Legal Resource Center (ILRC) developed this annotated form. The annotated form explains many of the questions, why specific questions are on the form, how to complete certain questions, and which questions are “red flags” and thus need advice from experienced attorneys or Department of Justice accredited representatives. This annotated form will help guide practitioners and volunteers while completing the new N-400. Please note that this annotated form is not a substitute for knowing the full details of all the legal requirements for naturalization and the risks of applying for naturalization if the applicant falls into any of the “red flag” categories.
